

English for management & economics

LAN-1 60 Jours (30 Heures)

Description

Developing your business related vocabulary is an important step towards becoming a confident English speaker in the workplace.

À qui s'adresse cette formation ?

Pour qui

Anyone interested to develop their English language skills in a business context

Prérequis

Aucune

Les objectifs de la formation

- quality and skilled students able to apply learnt knowledge in any specialised field of economics
- Professional economists to the labour market
- Graduates with the necessary skills to be responsible managers and decision -makers
- Graduates who were exposed to the most recent developments in economic theory combined with practical application
- Outstanding academic and industry related research

Programme de la formation

The programme is designed for workers as economists or economic researchers in public and private sector entities, and as academics at the universities.